Dear Livnat Kizner,

Thank you for inquiring about the Institute for Supply Management™ (ISM) Professional Credentials Program.

ISM is currently administering exams and granting the following professional designations:

- Certified Professional in Supply Management® (CPSM®)
- Certified in Supply Management™ (CSM™)
- Certified Professional in Supplier Diversity™ (CPSD™)

ISM is the only organization authorized to grant the CPSM®, CSM™, and CPSD™ designations. ISM authorizes other organizations to promote the designations, assist students in preparation for testing, and coordinate testing events with ISM. Those authorized organizations are listed on the ISM website at www.ism.ws.

ISM has granted TACICC Business College exclusive permission to translate the ISM CPSM Study Guide into Hebrew and exclusive rights to sell the translated editions of the ISM CPSM Study Guide, in accordance with an agreement signed on June 17, 2012. Currently, TACICC Business College is the only organization based in Israel with an active memorandum of understanding, allowing them to promote the CPSM® in their region.

The Institute for Supply Management™ no longer administers the Certified Purchasing Manager (C.P.M.) designation. The C.P.M. program transitioned to a "re-certification program only" in 2010. Those individuals with a current C.P.M. may continue to re-certify to maintain a current designation.

Thank you for your support of the ISM Certification program.

Sincerely,

Andrea Waas, APR, A.P.P.
